SCHOLAR SPOTLIGHTS

JAHLIZA YES NYC

Manhattan Center for Science & Mathematics '24,

While in middle school at Thurgood Marshall Academy in Harlem, Jahliza participated in the Bronx Junior Photo League, the Barnard College STEP Program, and her writing was featured in the YES zine published by the David Zwirner Gallery. She currently participates in the Sadie Nash Leadership Project's Siblinghood Academy and is a member of the Manhattan Center tennis team. This summer she will participate in Girls Who Code Summer Immersion Program and AI4All @ Carnegie Mellon in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

CHRISTOPHER YES LOS ANGELES

*Harvard Westlake, Colgate '13,
Vanderbilt University Owen
Graduate School of Management '23*

Before business school, Christopher worked with LA based nonprofit, Vision to Learn, to connect children to vital vision care. Now an MBA candidate at Vanderbilt, Christopher brought his nonprofit experience, management, and finance skills to the 2021 Farber Summer Fellowship to work with Project Return, a nonprofit and employment social enterprise in the REDF portfolio. REDF's sole focus is to accelerate the success of employment social enterprises —mission-driven, revenue-generating businesses that employ, empower, and invest in the potential of people.

BIANCA YES APPALACHIA

Chatham Hall '23

The first scholar from YES Appalachia to attend boarding school, Bianca has excelled during her three years at Chatham Hall in Virginia. Next year she will serve as the school's Head Prefect and member of the Honor Council, and at Fall '21 Convocation was recognized as the recipient of the Virginia Henry Holt Award due to her "character and deportment, industry and accomplishment, resoluteness and kindness, purpose and exactitude, and grace and good humor." A future doctor, last summer Bianca took a college level pre-med course through Johns Hopkins University and will spend this summer at Vanderbilt's Pre-Med Summer Program. She is a Questbridge College Prep Scholar and was chosen at a Chatham Hall Global Scholar and will spend time studying in Australia next year.
